Christ's Charge to Peter: Feed My Sheep, Southern Black outsider artist Elijah Pierce, 1932

THIS SUNDAY*. Easter III, May 4 9 AM Sung Eucharist We hear the story of Christ's charge to Peter: "Feed my sheep."

MANY THANKS! On behalf of the whole St. Barnabas community, thank you to everyone who made Holy Week so powerful this year and Easter so joyful. Volunteers gave reflections, put out publicity, brought food, arranged four different set-ups for four very different services and facilitated a beautiful worship experience for all attendees. St. Barnabas may be small but our volunteers make us mighty!

Chanting the exsultet at the Great Vigil of Easter

LARGE SCALE FIRE DAMAGE MAP HELPS VISUALIZE, PROCESS THE DESTRUCTION Local designer Noel McCarthy created this walk-up map that "people could stand in front and ponder in person", to help them "absorb the tragedy in its totality." The map is on display 24/7 outside West Altadena Wine & Spirits, (where our Easter champagne was purchased!) 2311 Lincoln Ave. Read more here. Photos by VRMZahn

FIRE RELIEF FUND We are continuing to receive donations, so if you are able, please visit stbarnabaspasadena.org/give and note "fire relief" in the comment section.

FIRE INFO HUB Eaton Fire Collaborative (eatonfirecollaborative.org), run by a local consortium of government agencies and non-profits, is a one stop source coordinating information and resources for those in need of information or assistance.

If you no longer wish to receive these updates, please reply with "Unsubscribe" as the subject line