The Trinity, Andrei Rublev, early 15th Century

THIS* SUNDAY JULY 20, Pentecost VI, 9 AM Eucharist with music. We hear the stories of Jesus' disciples Martha and Mary as well as Abraham's visit with the three holy strangers.

NEXT* SUNDAY, JULY 27, PENTECOST VII, 9AM Eucharist with music.

DONATIONS FOR ICE DETAINEES Although St. Barnabas is not officially collecting donations for detainees from the recent and ongoing ICE raids, parishioners have donated cash as well as goods for these efforts. If you know of any detainees or their families, protesters or others who could use assistance, please let us know. Otherwise, St. Stephen's, Hollywood (venmo @ststephenshollywood, or visit their FB page for paypal and up-to-date info) is actively accepting donations and we will pass whatever we've collected on to them.

JUNETEENTH-INSPIRED POETRY "We are here to battle hate and fear" Tony Rivera (who writes under the name Tiny Red) passed along this poem inspired by the historic unified service we held with All Saints on Juneteenth Sunday. Thanks, Tony, and enjoy!

Steve & Clara Williams with the Rev. Warner Traynham's icon of the Black Christ, installed at All Saints during the Juneteenth service

Tale of two churches Put an end to the time lurches
It took a century For a solidarity Plea for unity to be a family St Barnabas and ASC Cause a long time ago ASC didn't allow ST B to share the same church energy Love is a luxury If we learn from history We salute st B And their resiliency A church small but mighty As they battle white supremacy One hundred years ago Nobody here was there So take the blame out of the atmosphere We are here to battle hate and fear As Christians we should care this moment of rejoicing is an attempt to repair As we come together to celebrate in hopes other churches and society will emulate cause love is what is great. Tiny Red

FIRE RELIEF FUND We are continuing to receive donations, so if you are able, please visit stbarnabaspasadena.org/give and note "fire relief" in the comment section.

St. Barnabas News is on a bi-weekly schedule See our facebook page or Brother Marco White's blog for more frequent updates. Happy Summer!